

GREY house SPIDER

Badumna longinqua

This is a very common spider which seems to really like living close to humans - often found in and around houses.

This is the spider that produces the messy cobwebs with the distinct entrance hole.

It is a harmless species.

Up to 17mm.

Spider SILK is so strong that it is about five times stronger than steel