WE'RE GOING ON A BUG HUNT - BOOK ACTIVITY

Objective:

To rewrite a story using a different subject

Resources:

- Copy of the book We're Going on a Bear Hunt by Michael Rosen & Helen Oxenbury
- Picture of some bugs and insects to spark students interest

Teacher Info:

This is an activity to re-write the book We're Going on a Bear Hunt but using the subject of bugs. You do not need to re-write the whole book, you could select a few bugs to focus on.

Activity:

1. Read the book with the students and discuss what is happening
2. Talk about going on a bug hunt around the school and ask them what they think they might see. Discuss what sort of bugs they see at home and at different places they visit. How do those bugs make them feel? What characteristics do the bugs have? Make a list. Possibly go for a walk around the school to find some bugs.
3. Create a word wall or cause and effect map for bugs and the characteristics.
4. Co-construct an example of one of the events that happens in the book but using the bugs as the subject instead of grass, river etc.
5. Publish and illustrate posters or a book with re-written examples of the book.
